Crested and Basket types in mixed colors only.

Visit our colorful Begonia gardens during the summer and fall months. It will be a revelation.

We are going to make suggestions for your garden. Some plantings that will be distinctive.

Why not a short hedge somewhere of English Holly far enough apart to be only lightly trimmed? Be sure and get budded or grafted stock that will always berry and give you cut holly sprays for Christmas.

A row of Aloes that will give you the deep orange-crimson blooms throughout December and January when flowers for the house are scarce. A hot dry location is best.

A sturdy row of perennial Asters for show and for house flowers. We have now 6 to 10 varieties.

Cover your banks with Mesembryanthemums, not the old styles, but with some of the new colors—bright clear yellow, bronze, orange, Hyde's Queen and other shades.

A half dozen clumps of the tall yellow Iris, Spurias Aurea to leave in for years to cut decorative blooms 3 and 4 feet tall.

An open hedge or a background of Forsythias, giving you a shower of gold without the leaves in the spring, and long sprays for decoration.

Ten, a dozen or more pink weeping cherries along a driveway 12 or 16 feet apart. A shower of light pink in season that will be the envy of your neighbors and something new.

Azalea mollis, 50 or 100 under an oak, with a cushion of pine needles, to leave in for years, and give you joy every spring. We have them in quantity at greatly reduced rates.

Set Pink Flowering Buckeye in front of your lot or on an avenue, trimming them high with proper heads. A beautiful shade tree.

What is finer than a Copper Beech on the back of your lawn, or even a weeping Beech if you wish something no one else has.

A scarlet Oak or a red Maple in among your green foliage trees. A delightful effect.

Junipers in various colors from the light silvery foliage up into the dark purples and intermediate shades. Some 20 varieties.

We have just named a few things. Do not fail to call on us any time you are going through Watsonville and we will show you something different and new.
